THE OLD COTTAGE CLOCK.

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Oh ! the old, old clock, of the household stock,
Was the brightest thing and neatest;
Its hands, though old, had a touch of gold,
And its chime rang still the sweetest;
'Twas a monitor too, though its words were few,
Yet they lived, though nations altered;
And its voice, still strong, warned old and young,
When the voice of friendship faltered;
Tick—tick ! it said; quick, quick to bed;
For ten I've given warning;
Up, up—and go—or else, you know,
You'll never rise soon in the morning!

A friendly voice was that old, old clock,
As it stood in the corner smiling,
And blessed the time, with a merry chime,
The wintry hours beguiling;
But a cross old voice was that tiresome clock
As it called at daybreak boldly,
When the dawn looked gray o'er the misty way,
And the early air blew coldly;
Tick—tick ! it said; quick out of bed,
For five I've given warning,
You'll never have health, you'll never have wealth,
Unless you're up soon in the morning.

Still hourly the sound goes round and round,
With a tone that ceases never;
While tears are shed for the bright days fled,
And the old friends lost forever!
Its heart beats on—though hearts are gone
That warmer beat, and stronger;
Its hands still move—though hands we love
Are clasped on earth no longer!
Tick—tick ! it said; to the churchyard bed;
The grave hath given warning;
Then up and arise, and look to the skies,
And prepare for a heavenly morning.
